

A Living Sacrifice

Lesson 16 | Romans 12

The gospel covers deep, spiritual, transcendent theology but connects that theology to the rough and tough realities of everyday life. After finishing his presentation of what the gospel is, Paul goes on to explain how the gospel should change us.

The Call of Consecration (1-2)

_____ Your _____ (1)

Paul's opening charge as he finishes discussing what God has done is that we should willingly present our bodies as a sacrifice to God. The basis for this sacrifice is "the mercies of God." Paul says that to give yourself totally to God is your "reasonable service;" it just makes sense. God's incredible love and goodness which He lavished on those who are in Christ should motivate them to live for Him.

_____ Your _____ (2)

But it's not just what we do with our bodies that matters to the Holy Spirit. Our actions are always the result of our thinking, and so if we want to change our actions we need to first change our thinking. Paul warns that we not be conformed to the world, but instead should be transformed in the way we think. Worldly thinking will lead to worldly living, and consecrated thinking will lead to holy living.

Consecration in the Life of the Church (3-8)

After talking about the importance of consecration, the Holy Spirit leads Paul to immediately begin teaching on the importance of using

A Living Sacrifice

Lesson 16 | Romans 12

The gospel covers deep, spiritual, transcendent theology but connects that theology to the rough and tough realities of everyday life. After finishing his presentation of what the gospel is, Paul goes on to explain how the gospel should change us.

The Call of Consecration (1-2)

_____ Your _____ (1)

Paul's opening charge as he finishes discussing what God has done is that we should willingly present our bodies as a sacrifice to God. The basis for this sacrifice is "the mercies of God." Paul says that to give yourself totally to God is your "reasonable service;" it just makes sense. God's incredible love and goodness which He lavished on those who are in Christ should motivate them to live for Him.

_____ Your _____ (2)

But it's not just what we do with our bodies that matters to the Holy Spirit. Our actions are always the result of our thinking, and so if we want to change our actions we need to first change our thinking. Paul warns that we not be conformed to the world, but instead should be transformed in the way we think. Worldly thinking will lead to worldly living, and consecrated thinking will lead to holy living.

Consecration in the Life of the Church (3-8)

After talking about the importance of consecration, the Holy Spirit leads Paul to immediately begin teaching on the importance of using our gifts in the church. While personal sanctification is important, that sanctification will only work if done in the context of a church.

The _____ of the Gifts (3-5)

Christians must beware the danger of thinking too highly of themselves, but also the danger of thinking they are worthless. God has given every believer spiritual gifts, and Christians should think humbly but seriously about what their gift is and seek to use it for God's glory and others' good.

The _____ of the Gifts (6-8)

Paul gives a list of spiritual gifts to help us understand what kinds of gifts are available. The point seems to be that whatever you do well, do it for God's glory and the edification of other believers!

Consecration in the Life of the Believer (9-21)

Relationships with Believers (9-16)

- Believers should have the right kind of _____ (9-10).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ (11).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ to trials (12).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ and _____ (13).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ (14-15).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ (16).

Relationships with _____ (17-21)

While treating others well who wrong us might feel like a great injustice, Romans reminds us that we don't need to seek personal retribution. God is the one who brings vengeance, and He will bring vengeance. We are free to do good and love even those who hate us, because we know that God is just and will address all wrongs.

our gifts in the church. While personal sanctification is important, that sanctification will only work if done in the context of a church.

The _____ of the Gifts (3-5)

Christians must beware the danger of thinking too highly of themselves, but also the danger of thinking they are worthless. God has given every believer spiritual gifts, and Christians should think humbly but seriously about what their gift is and seek to use it for God's glory and others' good.

The _____ of the Gifts (6-8)

Paul gives a list of spiritual gifts to help us understand what kinds of gifts are available. The point seems to be that whatever you do well, do it for God's glory and the edification of other believers!

Consecration in the Life of the Believer (9-21)

Relationships with Believers (9-16)

- Believers should have the right kind of _____ (9-10).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ (11).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ to trials (12).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ and _____ (13).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ (14-15).
- Believers should have the right kind of _____ (16).

Relationships with _____ (17-21)

While treating others well who wrong us might feel like a great injustice, Romans reminds us that we don't need to seek personal retribution. God is the one who brings vengeance, and He will bring vengeance. We are free to do good and love even those who hate us, because we know that God is just and will address all wrongs.