

Signing Off

Lesson 20 | Romans 16

As Paul comes near the end of this long, important letter he wants to make one final impression on the church. In his final signing off he greets his friends at Rome, shares a few final thoughts, and then closes with a powerful doxology of praise to God.

Ministry Is People (1-16, 21-24)

_____ Matter

Paul takes relationships seriously. While your relationship with God is certainly the core of your faith, you won't live as a successful Christian if you aren't building and maintaining godly relationships.

Ministry Requires a _____

Many people think of Paul as a loner, charging solo into places that have never heard the gospel. Nothing could be further from the truth. In this chapter we get a glimpse at just how many people Paul knew, partnered with, and worked with.

We Aren't Just _____; We are the _____

We often emphasize the independence of the local church, and rightly so. Yet if we're not careful we can sometimes forget that we aren't the only church God is working with and through. God has people all over the world who are part of His global church.

_____ Servants Is Biblical

Some people feel uncomfortable when Christians get honored. "After all," such Christians sincerely reason, "shouldn't all the glory go back

Signing Off

Lesson 20 | Romans 16

As Paul comes near the end of this long, important letter he wants to make one final impression on the church. In his final signing off he greets his friends at Rome, shares a few final thoughts, and then closes with a powerful doxology of praise to God.

Ministry Is People (1-16, 21-24)

_____ Matter

Paul takes relationships seriously. While your relationship with God is certainly the core of your faith, you won't live as a successful Christian if you aren't building and maintaining godly relationships.

Ministry Requires a _____

Many people think of Paul as a loner, charging solo into places that have never heard the gospel. Nothing could be further from the truth. In this chapter we get a glimpse at just how many people Paul knew, partnered with, and worked with.

We Aren't Just _____; We are the _____

We often emphasize the independence of the local church, and rightly so. Yet if we're not careful we can sometimes forget that we aren't the only church God is working with and through. God has people all over the world who are part of His global church.

_____ Servants Is Biblical

Some people feel uncomfortable when Christians get honored. "After all," such Christians sincerely reason, "shouldn't all the glory go back to God?" All our accomplishments should direct praise back to God, but that doesn't stop Paul from thanking and commending fellow servants for the work they have done.

Final Thoughts (17-20)

Warnings about Potential _____ (17-18)

Disunity was a major concern for Paul. Not surprisingly, then, as at the end of this letter Paul warns once again about the dangers which would attack the unity of the church. Specifically, he was concerned about false teachers who used God's people to satisfy their lusts.

_____ to Continue in Obedience (19-20)

Paul wants the church to know that he sees the good they are doing and is encouraged by it. He is confident about their future because he knows that God will successfully help the church fight against evil.

Closing Doxology (25-27)

God Is All-_____

When Paul begins to praise God at the end of this book, he starts with a powerful opening when He says that God is the one who is able establish us securely in our faith.

God Is All-_____

When Paul ended the doctrinal section in Romans 11, the thing that most overwhelmed him was the wisdom of God (11:33). As he comes to the end of the book, he continues to marvel at God's wisdom in everything he has done for Jews and Gentiles in the gospel.

God Is All-_____

Finally, Paul ends the letter by praising God and with a prayer that God might receive glory for all that He has done. The power of God to keep us from falling and the wisdom of God in planning out our salvation should result in our praise.

to God?" All our accomplishments should direct praise back to God, but that doesn't stop Paul from thanking and commending fellow servants for the work they have done.

Final Thoughts (17-20)

Warnings about Potential _____ (17-18)

Disunity was a major concern for Paul. Not surprisingly, then, as at the end of this letter Paul warns once again about the dangers which would attack the unity of the church. Specifically, he was concerned about false teachers who used God's people to satisfy their lusts.

_____ to Continue in Obedience (19-20)

Paul wants the church to know that he sees the good they are doing and is encouraged by it. He is confident about their future because he knows that God will successfully help the church fight against evil.

Closing Doxology (25-27)

God Is All-_____

When Paul begins to praise God at the end of this book, he starts with a powerful opening when He says that God is the one who is able establish us securely in our faith.

God Is All-_____

When Paul ended the doctrinal section in Romans 11, the thing that most overwhelmed him was the wisdom of God (11:33). As he comes to the end of the book, he continues to marvel at God's wisdom in everything he has done for Jews and Gentiles in the gospel.

God Is All-_____

Finally, Paul ends the letter by praising God and with a prayer that God might receive glory for all that He has done. The power of God to keep us from falling and the wisdom of God in planning out our salvation should result in our praise.