

Lesson 3 – Something Has Gone Terribly Wrong

The Fall

God created a beautiful world and made two humans to reflect Him to the entire creation. But then God gave man a choice to submit to His plan humbly and obediently or to rebel against his Creator and do things man's own way. Adam and Eve decided to reject God's plan, thinking they knew better, and the results have been catastrophic.

Rebellion against the Creator

_____ Rebel against God's Created Order (Gen 3)

Genesis 3 tells us about a literal, historical event in which a man and a woman rejected the command that God had given them, but it also serves as an important case study for all subsequent sin.

- People sin because they want to be in _____ (Gen 3:4-5).
The serpent's lie to Eve was simple: you can be like God by deciding what is right and wrong. All sin is a demand that humans make to decide on our own terms what is good and evil.
- People sin because they think _____ better (Gen 3:6).
In Genesis 1 and 2 we read repeatedly that "God saw that it was good." Now Eve looks at something that God says was bad and decides it is good (Genesis 3:6).
- People sin because they _____ what they can't have (Gen 3:6).
Eve wanted the fruit. Nobody forced her to sin, and nobody forces us to sin. We sin because we want what has been forbidden.

Lesson 3 – Something Has Gone Terribly Wrong

The Fall

God created a beautiful world and made two humans to reflect Him to the entire creation. But then God gave man a choice to submit to His plan humbly and obediently or to rebel against his Creator and do things man's own way. Adam and Eve decided to reject God's plan, thinking they knew better, and the results have been catastrophic.

Rebellion against the Creator

_____ Rebel against God's Created Order (Gen 3)

Genesis 3 tells us about a literal, historical event in which a man and a woman rejected the command that God had given them, but it also serves as an important case study for all subsequent sin.

- People sin because they want to be in _____ (Gen 3:4-5).
The serpent's lie to Eve was simple: you can be like God by deciding what is right and wrong. All sin is a demand that humans make to decide on our own terms what is good and evil.
- People sin because they think _____ better (Gen 3:6).
In Genesis 1 and 2 we read repeatedly that "God saw that it was good." Now Eve looks at something that God says was bad and decides it is good (Genesis 3:6).
- People sin because they _____ what they can't have (Gen 3:6).
Eve wanted the fruit. Nobody forced her to sin, and nobody forces us to sin. We sin because we want what has been forbidden.

_____ Rebel against God's Created Order (Gen 11:1-9)

The first several chapters of Genesis show us individuals in rebellion against God. In Genesis 11, we find Babel – a city of people united and organized in calculated rebellion against God. Rather than ruling God's earth and seeking the glory of God, they try to make a name for themselves and focus on staying put. Cultures all throughout history have rebelled against God and against His Word. This rebellion may look different from culture to culture, but all cultures throughout the history of the world have rebelled against God's Word.

Result of the Rebellion

The strongest and most severe consequence of man's rebellion was death, but it wasn't the only consequence.

Rebellion and the _____ of _____

The image of God has not been destroyed by sin, but it has been damaged. We still reflect God, but not as well as we did before sin.

Rebellion and the _____

Part of the curse was to frustrate the job that man was given. Man was told to fill the earth and rule over the planet. Now childbirth would bring great pain and the earth would bring forth thorns. The New Testament describes what God created as "made subject to vanity" (Romans 8:20). Work was still good, but it was now frustrating.

God's Created Order and Gender

Our culture is rebelling against God in many ways, but we will focus on issues related to men and women. The most obvious and offensive rebellion today is the transgender movement, but we must also look at the question of homosexuality, the sexual revolution which prizes pleasure above all else, and even rebellion in the roles that God has given to men and women. Every time the deciding factor must be what God has said in His Word, because when man decides he is the standard and not God the unraveling of society is not far away.

_____ Rebel against God's Created Order (Gen 11:1-9)

The first several chapters of Genesis show us individuals in rebellion against God. In Genesis 11, we find Babel – a city of people united and organized in calculated rebellion against God. Rather than ruling God's earth and seeking the glory of God, they try to make a name for themselves and focus on staying put. Cultures all throughout history have rebelled against God and against His Word. This rebellion may look different from culture to culture, but all cultures throughout the history of the world have rebelled against God's Word.

Result of the Rebellion

The strongest and most severe consequence of man's rebellion was death, but it wasn't the only consequence.

Rebellion and the _____ of _____

The image of God has not been destroyed by sin, but it has been damaged. We still reflect God, but not as well as we did before sin.

Rebellion and the _____

Part of the curse was to frustrate the job that man was given. Man was told to fill the earth and rule over the planet. Now childbirth would bring great pain and the earth would bring forth thorns. The New Testament describes what God created as "made subject to vanity" (Romans 8:20). Work was still good, but it was now frustrating.

God's Created Order and Gender

Our culture is rebelling against God in many ways, but we will focus on issues related to men and women. The most obvious and offensive rebellion today is the transgender movement, but we must also look at the question of homosexuality, the sexual revolution which prizes pleasure above all else, and even rebellion in the roles that God has given to men and women. Every time the deciding factor must be what God has said in His Word, because when man decides he is the standard and not God the unraveling of society is not far away.