

A Chance Encounter and a Kind Hero

Ruth 2

Boaz's kindness ought to remind us of the goodness of God and create a desire to be God's channel of kindness to others.

Ruth Sets Out to Glean (2:1-3)

For a young, single widow to go gleaning was not necessarily safe. Regardless, Ruth takes the initiative and offers to go gleaning.

Ruth's _____ to Naomi (2:2)

Widows and foreigners were permitted to pick up what was left behind by the reapers (Deuteronomy 24:19-22; Leviticus 23:22) and reap the corners of the field (Leviticus 19:9-10). Yet such laws were not always practiced.

God's _____ guiding (2:3)

God directs Ruth to a place where she will be cared for and her needs will be met. God is at work in both the mundane and the spectacular.

Boaz Arrives (2:4-7)

Boaz is a man of _____ (2:1).

Boaz has not only the connection but also the means to help Naomi and Ruth. Now, will he want to?

Boaz demonstrates a godly _____ (2:4).

Even in the mundane, the heart of Boaz for the Lord shone through, and it inspired the same focus in others as well.

Boaz learns about Ruth (2:5-7).

Ruth and Naomi didn't know how Ruth would be received. Perhaps this servant didn't know for sure how Boaz would respond.

A Chance Encounter and a Kind Hero

Ruth 2

Boaz's kindness ought to remind us of the goodness of God and create a desire to be God's channel of kindness to others.

Ruth Sets Out to Glean (2:1-3)

For a young, single widow to go gleaning was not necessarily safe. Regardless, Ruth takes the initiative and offers to go gleaning.

Ruth's _____ to Naomi (2:2)

Widows and foreigners were permitted to pick up what was left behind by the reapers (Deuteronomy 24:19-22; Leviticus 23:22) and reap the corners of the field (Leviticus 19:9-10). Yet such laws were not always practiced.

God's _____ guiding (2:3)

God directs Ruth to a place where she will be cared for and her needs will be met. God is at work in both the mundane and the spectacular.

Boaz Arrives (2:4-7)

Boaz is a man of _____ (2:1).

Boaz has not only the connection but also the means to help Naomi and Ruth. Now, will he want to?

Boaz demonstrates a godly _____ (2:4).

Even in the mundane, the heart of Boaz for the Lord shone through, and it inspired the same focus in others as well.

Boaz learns about Ruth (2:5-7).

Ruth and Naomi didn't know how Ruth would be received. Perhaps this servant didn't know for sure how Boaz would respond.

Boaz Shows Kindness to Ruth (2:8-18)

Boaz saw through the bare requirement to the heart of God behind the law, and Boaz exemplified that heart of generosity to Ruth.

Boaz speaks _____ to Ruth (2:8-12).

No one really seems to notice Ruth until Boaz does.

- Boaz reassures Ruth (2:8-9).
- Boaz commends Ruth (2:10-13).

Boaz _____ Ruth (2:14).

Ruth the Moabitess was part of Israel now, and she belonged here.

Boaz _____ Ruth (2:15-16).

Whereas many powerful men have used their influence to take advantage of others, Boaz ensures others are not taken advantage of.

Boaz _____ for Ruth (2:14-18).

Boaz was what God wanted the Israelites to be. He was hard-working, kind, and generous. He was concerned for the foreigners and widows.

Ruth Reports to Naomi (2:19-23)

Whatever Naomi's fears might have been, you can almost hear her jaw hit the floor when Ruth walks in with a massive bag of barley.

Naomi sees God's provision in the _____ He provides.

Naomi was likely nervous what disaster God had in store for her next, but rather than disaster she saw God's provision.

Naomi sees God's provision in the _____ He provides.

Now Naomi's eyes light up with the possibility of a redeemer!

Boaz is an example for modern-day Christians as well. God wants His heart for the outcasts to be the heart of His people as well.

Naomi ends chapter 1 without hope, but now hope is back. When we serve God, we can trust Him to do us good. When we can't see what God is up to, we should remember that at any moment He can intervene and start a brand new chapter of our story.

Boaz Shows Kindness to Ruth (2:8-18)

Boaz saw through the bare requirement to the heart of God behind the law, and Boaz exemplified that heart of generosity to Ruth.

Boaz speaks _____ to Ruth (2:8-12).

No one really seems to notice Ruth until Boaz does.

- Boaz reassures Ruth (2:8-9).
- Boaz commends Ruth (2:10-13).

Boaz _____ Ruth (2:14).

Ruth the Moabitess was part of Israel now, and she belonged here.

Boaz _____ Ruth (2:15-16).

Whereas many powerful men have used their influence to take advantage of others, Boaz ensures others are not taken advantage of.

Boaz _____ for Ruth (2:14-18).

Boaz was what God wanted the Israelites to be. He was hard-working, kind, and generous. He was concerned for the foreigners and widows.

Ruth Reports to Naomi (2:19-23)

Whatever Naomi's fears might have been, you can almost hear her jaw hit the floor when Ruth walks in with a massive bag of barley.

Naomi sees God's provision in the _____ He provides.

Naomi was likely nervous what disaster God had in store for her next, but rather than disaster she saw God's provision.

Naomi sees God's provision in the _____ He provides.

Now Naomi's eyes light up with the possibility of a redeemer!

Boaz is an example for modern-day Christians as well. God wants His heart for the outcasts to be the heart of His people as well.

Naomi ends chapter 1 without hope, but now hope is back. When we serve God, we can trust Him to do us good. When we can't see what God is up to, we should remember that at any moment He can intervene and start a brand new chapter of our story.