What We Learn from Boaz (4:13, 17-22)

Boaz is an admirable hero, seeking to honor not just the letter but the spirit of the law. Boaz is a picture of what God wants us to be, and he is a shadow of the ultimate noble hero we see in Jesus, who also understands the spirit behind God's law, obeys it honorably, and is blessed by the Father.

Boaz demonstrates God's _____ (Ruth 2).

Boaz does things _____ (Ruth 3-4)

Boaz leaves a godly _____ (Ruth 4).

What We Learn about God

God is a silent character in the book of Ruth. He never speaks and the author rarely describes God Himself as doing something, leaving it to the characters to recognize God's work. Much like our own lives, we know God is at work but sometimes have to piece together what He is up to. A careful reading of this story will reveal much to us about God and how He works in our lives.
