

- Die to sin and live to righteousness.
 - Unless we die to our sin by seeing it put upon the Servant, we will never live for righteousness by taking on His _____.
 - Though the debt of our sins has been paid, though sin now holds no power over us, we let _____ paralyze us.

CONCLUSION

- Our response is to repent of our sin and _____ in Christ's sacrifice.
- Those who trust must now _____.
- Because of the cross, you are _____ to obey with all your heart.

UNIT 2: The Atonement Foreshadowed DATE: March 1, 2015

LESSON 9: "Wounded for You" (Isaiah 52:13-53:12; 1 Peter 2:21-25)

NEXT WEEK: "Behold the Lamb!" (John 1:29-42)

INTRODUCTION

- Throughout the OT, God saw fit to give more and more insight into who the _____ would be.
- No other section of the OT reveals more clearly who the promised One would be than _____.

THE SERVANT WILL BE _____ AS HE SUFFERS
THE CONSEQUENCES OF OUR SIN (ISAIAH 52:13-53:9).

- The Servant is doing something on their behalf, which means the Servant cannot be referring to all of Israel but to Israel represented by one person—the _____.
- As the Messiah was dying on the cross for _____ sins, it appeared to the world that God was striking Him down for His _____ sins.
- Isaiah's portrait of the Messiah's suffering is horrific.
 - The _____ Pain – the rusty nails, the splintered wood, the slow suffocation

- The _____ Pain – mocked, spat upon, rejected, ridiculed

- The _____ Pain – bearing our sins, forsaken and abandoned by His Father

- “[Jesus] was made in the form of a man who is composed of the dust of the ground. He became a servant. Finally, our Lord was sentenced to execution in a death reserved for criminals and felons. He was raised between the heaven and the earth as though both heaven and earth rejected Him.” ~ W. A. Criswell

THE SERVANT ACCOMPLISHES THE _____ OF SALVATION THROUGH HIS SUFFERING (ISAIAH 53:10-12).

- Why such pain? Why such suffering? Why did the Servant have to endure all of this?
 - It was the _____ will (v. 10).

 - Jesus was an _____ for guilt (v. 10).

 - The _____ is the only way God can offer Himself fully to us as both the Just and the Merciful.

- Here we see God’s desired outcome—_____ for people—and the way it is accomplished—the _____ of the Servant.

- The Servant _____ and died so we might live and be free.

- “In Isaiah 53, God’s character expresses itself simultaneously in both forgiveness and just judgment.” ~ Paige Patterson

THE SERVANT’S SUFFERING IS THE BASIS FOR OUR _____ (1 PETER 2:21-25).

- Join Jesus in His suffering.
 - Because Jesus suffered, we are to _____ Him in His suffering.

 - The distinguishing mark of a Christian is that we _____ in our suffering.

 - The Christian is not called to a life of no suffering but to a life of suffering in _____.